The question of whether his concern is for the boys' health or if there would be oysters left for him remains unanswered. But everyone left contented.

DON'T NEGLECT A SORE THROAT

Even a minor sore throat can be extremely dangerous to a child if neglected. It might be one of the early symptoms of rheumatic fever and this disease causes more deaths than polio did before Dr. Salk.

The cause of rheumatic fever is the streptococcus germ which can be easily identified by your physician. The diagnosis must be as soon as possible. Beginning symptoms are the innocent looking minor sore throat, a feeling of fatigue and mild joint pains. Don't wait for the severe stages when the sore throat develops with a high fever, sore neck glands, red and swollen joints. By this time irreparable damage may have been done to the heart.

THE ELBA CLIPPER NOVEMBER 16, 1967

By Tom Casaday, County Extension Chairman

PLANNING MEETING
Planning for 1968 County Extension work will get underway on Tuesday, November 21, when the County Extension Council meets for its annual planning meeting. The group will meet at the Elba Country Club. Represented will be men and women making plans for row crops, truck crops, livestock, home economics, dairying, forestry and other groups. Officers of the Council are Brown Bryars, Howard Lasseter and Mrs. Johnnie B. Johnson.

FARM-CITY WEEK
Next Monday night, the Elba Rotary Club is having their annual Farm-City Week observances. Each Rotarian is invited in two farmers to attend the special meeting as his guests. Earl F. Kennamer, our Extension fish and wildlife specialist, will be the main speaker for this group. I know that the folks will enjoy hearing Kennamer as he is one of the most interesting speakers in the state.

HOG EXPANSION
Dan Smith, our Auburn University farm management specialist, and J.R. Speed are working closely with Frank and his son Walter Waters on their expanded swine program. Waters is demonstrating the results from an application of up-to-date management principles and hog production. This program will serve as a guide for producers who are trying to expand their production program.

MEMBERSHIP IN CATTLEMAN'S GROUP AT ALL-TIME HIGH
Membership in the Alabama Cattleman's Association has reached an all-time high of 10,159, according to E. H. Wilson, Association Executive Vice-President.

Wilson stated that this record-breaking membership is 766 more than the 1966 membership, and makes the Association the largest individual state cattlemen's association in the Nation. Each of the state's 67 counties has an active affiliated cattlemen's group.

Alabama has 1,604,000 head of cattle, ranking the state 18th in the Nation.

of pines which were set out about ten years ago. They have about the best looking pines that I have seen. I talked to them a few days ago and both of them pointed out that they had been extremely fortunate in not having any fires in their pines. Both are improving their fire lanes to help prevent fire outbreaks.

The County ASCS office is paying $4 per 1,000 linear foot of fire lanes constructed. If you have lands that you want to protect, you might check on getting the financial help or you may want to do it on your own.

PECANS
Pecan prices have improved greatly this year due to the shorter supply of top quality nuts. Several Coffee County folks who have pecan trees are interested in making them more productive. Haywood Watkins has an orchard about a mile west of Enterprise of good trees that he is fertilizing according to soil test and is also getting set to start on good spray control programs. We had this past week John Bagby, our horticulturist at Auburn, to visit with Haywood to discuss management.

Speaking of orchards reminds me that a lot of people are becoming more interested in establishing not only pecan orchards but peach orchards and other fruits. If you need help in your planting, get in touch with us and we will help you.

RECORD FISH IS CAUGHT IN STATE
Conservation Director Claude D. Kelley announced this week that an Alabama fisherman has caught another world's record freshwater fish.

The Director said the Game and Fish Division of the Conservation Department has been notified of the record catch by Field and Stream, outdoor sports magazine.

The magazine said that a 6-pound, one half ounce redeye bass, commonly known as the Coosa bass, caught by Thomas L. Sharpe of Shawmut, will be listed in the publication's list of world's record catches. This is the first official world's record for this species.

Sharpe caught his record bass with a rebulet on a 10-pound test line. The bass was taken from Halliway Creek in Lee County on March 24, 1967.

SOYBEAN HAILED "King of the Southland"
The U. S. Department of Agriculture has hailed the soybean as "King of the Southland," succeeding cotton.

Lands traditionally devoted to cotton are being used to raise soybeans. Soybean acreage in some southern states has increased about 200 per cent since 1955, says USDA.

Acreage planted to soybeans this year in North Carolina, South Carolina, Tennessee, Mississippi, Arkansas and Louisiana exceeds all the land used for cotton in all the states of the South, Southwest and far West.

This year's acreage of cotton being harvested is down to 8.5 million acres while soybean acreage in 10 southern states total about 13.5 million acres. Alabama farmers planted about 500,000 acres of soybeans this year, a 75 per cent increase over last year, says Extension Specialist Dean Bond.
